

College of Professional Studies and Outreach

Gallaudet University

Summer at Gallaudet University: It's ON!

With a wide variety of academic and enrichment programs and courses, including challenging academic programs, sports camps for youth, activities for deaf senior citizens, ASL classes, graduate and undergraduate courses, leadership and professional studies programs, special events and more, the College of Professional Studies and Outreach at Gallaudet University has something for everyone.

Located in the heart of Washington, D.C., Gallaudet is a special place with over a century of experience providing education and enrichment programs to deaf individuals interested in working in deaf-owned or deaf-centric corporations, agencies and organizations.

We look forward to meeting you and welcoming you to our community. Once you've been here, we're confident you will agree that Gallaudet is a very special place with talented and caring faculty and staff who are ready to serve you. For more information about Summer at Gallaudet, visit us on the web at summer.gallaudet.edu.

About College of Professional Studies and Outreach (CPSO)

Gallaudet University's College of Professional Studies and Outreach (CPSO) provides a comprehensive array of exemplary personal and professional development, leadership, and outreach programs and services for deaf and hard of hearing individuals, their families, communities, and professionals working with them across the globe.

Our programs and services are developed to address the needs and interests of diverse internal and external constituencies, through the offering of Graduate, Undergraduate, Professional Studies, and non-credit courses and programs. CPSO provides learners with a bilingual (ASL/English) learning environment based on the principles of direct and unimpeded language and communication access.

For more information, visit CPSO at cpso.gallaudet.edu.